Published by the City of Knoxville's Office of Neighborhoods to report news important to Knoxville's residential neighborhoods. Deadline for news & calendar items: 9 a.m. Friday
The following workshop has been scheduled:

1. No Newsletter Next Week

This Neighborhood Advisory newsletter will not be published on Sept. 19. The next issue will be dated and distributed on Friday, September 26. We welcome news from neighborhood groups. The deadline is 9 a.m. on publication dates.

2. Mechanicsville Homecoming Slated for September 20

Mechanicsville Community Association will hold its Third Annual Homecoming Parade and Ninth Annual Homecoming Celebration on Saturday, September 20.

The community parade will step off at 10 a.m. from the corner of Fifth Avenue and University Avenue. This year, the parade will double as a Memorial March for loved ones who have lost their lives to violent crime. The parade will end at Danny Mayfield Park, where the community celebration will be held from 11 a.m. until 8 p.m.

The day will be filled with music, dance and other entertainment; greetings from community leaders; and booths that feature food, clothing, and crafts. Various nonprofits will disseminate information useful to community members. All are invited to attend and participate.

For more, contact the Homecoming Chair, David L. Gillette, at 865-356-1179 or dgillette33@gmail.com.

3. Debbie Sharp to Join the Office of Neighborhoods

Debbie Sharp, an active member of the South Woodlawn Neighborhood Association, has been named Assistant Neighborhood Coordinator in the city's Office of Neighborhoods (ON). Her first day on the job will be Monday, Sept. 29.

She will work with Neighborhood Coordinator David Massey on the full range of ON's projects and programs, including The Neighborhood Conference and Awards Luncheon set for March 7 next year, the revival of the Neighborhood Small Grants Program, and outreach activities such as this newsletter.

Just last spring, Mayor Madeline Rogero appointed Debbie to the Neighborhood Advisory Council; she will now step down from that position.

In her own neighborhood, Debbie serves on the board of South Woodlawn Neighborhood Association. Among other activities, she was a driving force behind South Woodlawn's recent designation by the National Wildlife Federation as Tennessee's first certified community wildlife habitat.

The co-founder and leader of the hiking club Trek South, Debbie also serves as the events chair of the League of Women Voters and the treasurer of the board of Candoro Arts & Heritage Center. She was a member of CAC's Community Leadership Class of 2005.

Debbie earned a Master of Science degree in Forest Recreation from the University of Tennessee, and she is fluent in both Spanish and English.

Her 20-year career in the social services field began with two years of service in the Peace Corps in Ecuador, where she helped young people learn leadership skills and form an eco-tourism group. She then worked for the Sexual Assault Crisis Center, Narrow Ridge Earth Literacy Center, and Catholic Charities before joining Community Connections, where she manages a team of five caseworkers who advocate for clients with developmental disabilities.

Along the way, Debbie served as a foster parent to ten children, adopted two of them, and has three grandchildren.

4. City Council to See Busy Agenda Tuesday

Knoxville City Council has a busy agenda this coming Tuesday, September 16, with several items --- including consideration of the Central City Sector Plan --- affecting neighborhoods.

It behooves neighborhood organizations to keep track of the agendas of public meetings and to delve into items that might potentially impact their neighborhoods.

Council agendas can be found on this web page:
<http://knoxvillecitytn.ig2.com/Citizens/Default.aspx>

If you click on "agenda packet," you can then click on any individual item to bring up the background report and supporting materials that City Council members receive. These are PDF documents that can be downloaded using Acrobat Reader.

Council will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 16, in the large assembly room of the City County Building on Main Street.

5. MPC Begins the Northwest County Sector Plan Update

The Knoxville Knox County Metropolitan Planning Commission (MPC) is beginning the process to update the 2003 Northwest County Sector Plan.

It will hold a first round of public input meetings on September 22, September 25, and October 7. See details in the calendar below.

Browse <http://knoxmpc.org/northwestcounty/> for the plan update page, including a Draft Background Report, the current Northwest County Sector Plan from 2003, an online survey, and a meeting schedule.

Residents, property owners and businesses in the Northwest County sector are invited to take an online survey <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/northwestcounty>.

Organizations whose neighborhoods are located entirely or partially in the Northwest County Sector include Adell Ree Park Condominiums Homeowners Association, Brittany Place Homeowners Association, Deerfield Homeowners Association, Foxboro Homeowners Association, Kirkwood Homeowners Association, Landmark Neighborhood Watch, Seven Springs Home Owners Association, The Village at Bearden Homeowners Association, and Westavia Woods Neighborhood Watch.

For more, contact MPC Planner Liz Albertson at liz.albertson@knoxmpc.org or 215-3804.

6. BZA Decisions Can Impact Your Neighborhood

If your neighborhood cares about how close a building can be to the street or a neighboring property (known as setback requirements); the size, height and shape of commercial signs; parking lots and driveway widths; the number of required parking spaces for nearby businesses; and related issues, then you may wish to pay close attention to the Board of Zoning Appeals (BZA).

Established by city ordinance, BZA hears appeals of denials of building permits by the city's Building Inspections Department. The board, consisting of five citizens appointed by the Mayor, meets at 4 p.m. on the third Thursday of each month in the Small Assembly Room of the City County Building. Thus BZA meets next week on Thursday, Sept. 18.

Keep up with how the BZA might impact your neighborhood. Watch for the black and white signs indicating that there is a pending decision on a particular piece of property. Most signs are for Metropolitan Planning Commission issues --- which are also important --- but signs with the word "variance" are BZA items.

The BZA agenda is posted at <http://www.cityofknoxville.org/boards/zoning.asp> no later than the Monday prior to the BZA meeting each month. Next week's agenda is already posted.

A neighborhood group that keeps track of BZA will request and study the paperwork on a particular appeal, decide whether to take a position on the appeal, and then attend the BZA meeting to voice the group's support or objections.

Decisions of the BZA can be appealed within 15 days of the BZA decision to Knoxville City Council. Appeals of a City Council decision are made to Chancery Court within 60 days of a

City Council decision related to BZA.

7. Conference Targets Teens and Their Health Decisions

A health conference for middle and high school students in Knox County will be held from 9:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday, September 27, at Bearden High School.

This is not the first year for this conference, but it does have a new name coined by participating teens: TBH¹⁰⁰, which stands for “talkin’ ‘bout health and keeping it 100 percent real.”

“The conference’s main goal is to help teens understand the long-term implications of the decisions they make today,” said Charlayne Frazier, TENnderCare program manager at the Knox County Health Department. “We hope they gain an appreciation that their choices can greatly impact their education, family, career goals and health.”

The event is free, but registration is required, and attendance will be limited to the first 200 teens who sign up at http://knoxcounty.org/health/tenndercare_info.php. Or call 215-5087.

The conference will feature an interactive life maze, healthy food presentations, distracted driving demonstrations, tobacco prevention education, physical activity circuits and other activities. This event is designed to support one of TENnderCARE’s objectives, which is to improve health outcomes and screening rates among teens.

Sponsors include the Knox County Health Department, Knox County Schools, managed care organizations (MCOs), Smoke Free Knoxville, Youth Health Board, Project Grad, Teen Health Empowerment, and Knox Adolescent Partners in Prevention Initiative (KAPPI).

8. City to Report on Brownfield Assessments

City of Knoxville officials --- along with its engineering and planning consultants S&ME and BPR --- next week will present a final report on brownfield assessments performed in the South Waterfront and Downtown North redevelopment areas.

The meeting, which is open to the public, will be held starting at 5:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 22, at All Occasions Catering, 922 North Central.

These assessments, conducted with federal grant money from the Environmental Protection Agency, surveyed brownfield sites in both areas to evaluate real or perceived contamination that could inhibit future use and development of these parcels. The grant money was used to assess sites with a history of petroleum, hazardous or co-mingled materials.

For an overview of the Downtown North project, including a list of sites evaluated, see the latest Downtown North newsletter at this location: http://www.cityofknoxville.org/downtownnorth/newsletters/01_2012_09.pdf.

For Downtown North data in general, see: <http://www.cityofknoxville.org/downtownnorth/default.asp>.

For the South Waterfront, see www.cityofknoxville.org/southwaterfront.

For additional information on these brownfield assessment grants, please feel free to contact Anne Wallace at awallace@cityofknoxville.org or 865-215-2644.

9. Neighborhood and Government Calendar

Include your neighborhood-related event or meeting in this space. Call 215-3232.
