Published by the City of Knoxville's Office of Neighborhoods to report news important to Knoxville's residential neighborhoods. News & calendar deadline: 5 p.m. Mondays.

1. Alice Bell Spring Hill Meeting to Focus on East Towne

The September meeting of the Alice Bell Spring Hill Neighborhood Association (ABSHNA) will be unusual in two respects.

First, the group will meet at Alice Bell Baptist Church, 3305 Alice Bell Road, because its usual meeting place at New Harvest Park will be in use as an early voting site.

Second, the meeting will be devoted to improvements in the roadways in the East Towne area, including but not limited to Knoxville Center Mall. Various road officials will be on hand, along with elected representatives, to discuss traffic safety, ideas to make businesses more visible to passing motorists, and efforts to clean up the area.

All are invited to this meeting, which begins at 7 p.m. Monday, Sept. 21.

Questions may be directed to ABSHNA President Ronnie Collins at abshna@aol.com or 865-637-9630. One of the elected officials involved is Rep. Eddie Smith, who is available at rep.eddie.smith@capitol.tn.gov.

2. Grants Available to Make Your Home Energy Efficient

CAC --- the Knoxville Knox County Community Action Committee --- is taking applications this week from renters and homeowners who wish to reduce their KUB bills by making their homes more energy efficient.

Anyone interested in applying for energy upgrades should come by CAC offices at 2247 Western Avenue from today through September 4 to submit an application. Doors open at 8 a.m., and they close at 7 p.m. today and Thursday and at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday and Friday.

Applications will still be accepted after this week. Just contact a CAC neighborhood center or CAC's housing and energy office at 244-3080.

To be eligible, applicants must live in a single family or duplex home within the city limits of Knoxville that was built in 1995 or earlier. Both the home heating and water heating must be electric.

Applicants must also be income eligible. Maximum household incomes are $34,550 for a single person, $39,450 for two people in the household, $44,400 for three, $49,300 for four, and $53,250 for five. For more details, see the participant eligibility brochure at www.KEEMteam.com.

The types of improvements depend on the specific needs of each home. Common upgrades include installation of weather stripping, upgrades of heating units, air sealing, and insulation of walls, ducts, pipes and attics.

Thanks to a $15 million grant from TVA, this program --- called Knoxville Extreme Energy Makeover (KEEM) --- will improve the energy efficiency of more than 1,200 homes in Knoxville over the next two years. Besides TVA and CAC, the other partners are the City of Knoxville, Knoxville Utilities Board (KUB), and the Alliance to Save Energy.

In addition, everyone can save on KUB bills by learning a few simple low-cost or no-cost changes in the way utilities are used. Visit www.savingsinthehouse.com for some quick tips. Better yet, attend one of the "Savings in the House" workshops that will be held this fall. See the calendar below for workshops on Sept. 1, Sept. 3 and Sept. 24.

3. Labor Day Schedule for City Services

City offices will be closed Monday, September 7, 2015, for the Labor Day Holiday.

There will be no household garbage or recycling collection on Labor Day. Trash and recycling pick-up will be one day behind schedule all of next week. If your normal pick-up is Monday, it will be on Tuesday. Tuesday pick-up will be on Wednesday, and so forth. Residents that normally have pick-up on Friday will be serviced on Saturday.

Downtown trash and recycling will run on regular schedule. The City's recycling centers will be open for recycling use, but the Goodwill attendant may not be available for household goods donations. The City's Solid Waste Management Facility located at 1033 Elm Street will be closed on Saturday, Sept. 5, and Monday, Sept. 7.

4. City Offers Traffic Tips for Boomsday, UT Homes Games

City of Knoxville officials have recommended the best traffic routes to help motorists most drive into the University of Tennessee campus area for football games this season, and they also promoted Knoxville Area Transit shuttles as an alternative to driving.

Knoxville Police Chief David Rausch also announced special traffic enforcement efforts for the Labor Day weekend, as well as Sept. 5-6 street closures for Boomsday on Sunday, Sept. 6.

See <http://knoxvilletn.gov/cms/One.aspx?portalId=109562&pageId=646364> for details.

5. Labor Day Sunflower Project Celebrates Work

The Labor Day Sunflower Project --- an annual celebration of collective work --- will be in full bloom at the Krutch Park Extension this coming Monday, Sept. 7, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m., and all are invited to participate.

Bring yourself, family, friends, your sunflowers, and food to share. Community members will weave thousands of sunflowers and sunflower seed heads on a chain-link substrate to create a massive circle of flowers, with each flower representing the harvest of each individual's efforts and the entire circle depicting the community's labor over the past year.

Starting at 11 a.m., the entertainment will include Circle Modern Dance, Cattywampus Puppet Council, Bateria Appalachia drum core, and local jazz singer Kelle Jolly. A Jobs with Justice picnic from 12-1 will include speakers on local labor issues. Finally, students from Vine Middle School will hold an art exhibition.

At this event, community members weave thousands of sunflowers that they have grown during spring and summer. Each sunflower represents the harvest of an individual's effort while the circle of sunflowers represents the sum of all efforts over the past year. The seeds from the installation are distributed throughout the community with the promise of completing the cycle in the coming year.

For more, contact Gerry Moll at gerrymoll@mac.com or 480-239-0506.

6. Group Produces Resource Guide for East Knoxville

The community group "Five Points Up" has teamed up with the Knox County Health Department to publish a "Community Resource Guide" for East Knoxville.

The guide lists the address, phone and services for organizations and programs in several categories, including after-school care, community engagement, food access, housing, health care, meeting facilities, neighborhood groups, recreation, support services, workforce development, and youth development.

The guide, which also includes maps pinpointing the location of community services and churches, can be found online at www.knoxcounty.org/health/5points.php, where the names of the organizations are clickable to their websites.

The guide is available in hard copy form by calling 215-5170.

7. MPC Schedules Meetings for Northeast County Sector Plan

Staff of the Metropolitan Planning Commission (MPC) has scheduled the second round of public meetings for the Northeast County Sector Plan Update.

The meetings will be held from 6-7 p.m. on September 17, September 21, and September 22 at various locations in the county. For more information on the draft plan, background report, and meeting schedule visit this MPC Web page:
<http://www.knoxmpc.org/northeastcounty/index.htm>

Or contact Bryan Berry at MPC at bryan.berry@knoxmpc.org or 215-3743.

8. Neighborhood and Government Calendar

Include your neighborhood-related event or meeting in this space. Call 215-4382.

Visit <http://knoxvilletn.gov/calendar> for a complete list of meetings of various city boards and commissions.

If you are a person with a disability who requires an accommodation in order to attend a City of Knoxville public meeting, please contact Stephanie Brewer Cook at scook@knoxvilletn.gov or 215-2034 no less than 72 hours prior to the meeting you wish to attend.
