1. To Stay on This List, Please Re-Subscribe

The Knoxville Neighborhood Advisory will not be published again until June 21 while we transition to a new method of email delivery.

If you receive this newsletter by email, we ask that you re-subscribe through an online email service, MailChimp. Please do this now!

This is a two-step “double opt-in” process. First, go to <http://eepurl.com/b2Rk9T> and fill out the form. Take extra care when entering your email address!

Second, you will receive an automated email from “City of Knoxville, Office of Neighborhoods” asking that you verify your subscription. Click on the link provided. This second step completes the process, and you will receive a follow-up confirmation email. You will then be “on the list” when we resume producing this newsletter on June 21.

When you first sign up (step one above), please provide your phone number, so that we have a way to reach you in case your email stops working. You will also be asked which format you prefer for receiving the newsletter – HTML or plain text. Depending on your email program, plain text may be easier to read, but the links to web pages will not be clickable. Once you start receiving the newsletter, however, you can change your preferences at any time.

Also, each newsletter will still carry a link to the PDF version on our Website, where we archive past newsletters for up to two years. See this page: http://knoxvilletn.gov/government/city_departments_offices/neighborhoods/neighborhood_advisory_weekly_newsletter/

A hard copy version of this newsletter will continue to be mailed to neighborhood leaders who do not have Internet access. Contact Debbie Sharp at 215-4382 with any questions or problems re-subscribing.

2. Lyons View Plans Family Fun Day

The Lyons View Community Club is planning a “Family Fun Day” at the Lyons View Community Center and playground, 114 Sprinkle Drive, from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday, June 11. All are invited. The event is co-sponsored by the club and the Word of God Ministry (Mount Pleasant Baptist Church).

3. Fourth & Gill Organizes Multi-Family Yard Sale

The Historic Fourth & Gill Neighborhood Organization will hold a multi-family yard sale from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday, June 4, at 16 locations around the neighborhood.

Look for the yard sale signs on Deery, Eleanor, Gratz, and Luttrell streets as well as the Brownlow Lofts, 140 East Glenwood.

4. Advisory Council to Brainstorm Issues, Topics

The Neighborhood Advisory Council (NAC) next week will brainstorm neighborhood-related issues and topics for consideration at future meetings.

Appointed by the Mayor, NAC will meet at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 8, at the Cansler YMCA, 616 Jessamine Street.

Issues that are important to neighborhoods are also important to the Office of Neighborhoods and the NAC. NAC meetings are open to the public, and anyone may attend. For more, contact Debbie Sharp at 215-4382 or dsharp@knoxvilletn.gov.

5. Neighborhood Directory Updated; Some Groups Missing

The Knoxville Neighborhood Directory --- a listing of active neighborhood groups in the city --- has been updated and can be viewed at this location:

http://knoxvilletn.gov/UserFiles/Servers/Server_109478/File/Neighborhoods/Knoxville_Neighborhood_Directory.pdf

About one dozen active groups are missing from this edition of the Directory. If your group is not listed here, it may be because the contact person we have on file did not respond to emails and phone calls requesting confirmation that the information is still accurate.

If your organization is missing, you may wish to reach out to your group leaders to urge them to confirm or update the group’s listing. We apologize for any inconvenience, but this is the only way we know to ensure that the contact information is still accurate and up to date.

Please send any corrections or additions to Debbie Sharp at dsharp@knoxvilletn.gov with “Directory” in the subject line. Or call her at 215-4382. We will reissue a corrected directory during the second half of June.

6. Use Saturday Hotline to Report Possible Codes Violations

Call the City of Knoxville's Saturday Inspections Hotline – 865-755-2531 – if you wish to report possible zoning violations, non-permitted construction, parking in front yards and other matters that cannot wait until a Monday call to 311.

Between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. on Saturdays, a City inspector answers calls and visits sites of concern. Please do not use the hotline for matters that can wait until a week day. This is not a general complaint or help line. It is intended solely to report zoning violations and non-permitted construction that is occurring only on the weekends, when inspectors are not normally available to check out a complaint.

Property owners unsure about commercial construction permitting can call 311 during weekday business hours to speak with Plans Review and Inspections office staff. Business owners also can contact Patricia Robledo, the City's Business Liaison in the Office of Business Support, at 865-215-3155.

For residential construction projects, citizens can check a list of items that require permitting by visiting www.knoxvilletn.gov/plansreview or by calling 311 during regular business hours.

7. Neighborhoods: Stay Informed on Upcoming MPC Agenda Items

Neighborhood organizations that wish to keep track of new commercial developments, changes in the zoning regulations, rezonings and related matters in or near their neighborhoods are encouraged to follow the Metropolitan Planning Commission (MPC) via Facebook, Twitter, email and the MPC Website.

All rezonings, development plans, and uses-on-review originate at MPC, which acts as the planning department for both the City of Knoxville and Knox County.

To follow MPC, just browse to www.knoxmpc.org and click on the various icons at the very bottom of the page. Note that MPC meetings are now archived on video which you can view at your leisure.

Those on the email list receive advance notice that MPC has posted a list of requests for plan amendments, rezonings, approval of development plans, and uses on review that likely will be on the next MPC agenda. This list is later replaced by the preliminary agenda about two weeks out, and then by the Agenda Package on the Friday afternoon before the MPC monthly meeting.

For more, see <http://agenda.knoxmpc.org/index.htm>.

8. CAC Taking Applications for Community Leadership Class

The Knoxville-Knox County Community Action Committee (CAC) is seeking applicants for its 30th Community Leadership class, which begins on Sept. 13 followed by a full-day retreat on Oct. 4, and then monthly meetings from November 2016 through June 2017.

Each year, CAC offers free leadership training to 30 current and emerging leaders who live, work or volunteer in low-to-moderate income communities, and who have demonstrated a commitment to service. Individuals who work with agencies or programs which affect these neighborhoods are also encouraged to apply.

Key selection factors will be the interest and demonstrated community commitment of each potential participant. Overall topics include business economics, media, social and neighborhood issues, education, and local government.

The application deadline is August 12. For more, call Lori Galbraith at 776-0094 or get the application at this web page:

<http://www.knoxcac.org/newweb/programs-services/community-leadership>

9. Attorney General Offers Citizens Academy

District Attorney General Charme Allen is offering citizens an opportunity to learn more about the District Attorney's Office and what it is like to represent the State and argue a criminal case as a prosecutor.

In a six-week course, participants will engage with prosecutors discussing a range of topics, including the role of the prosecutor in the criminal justice system, the opiate epidemic, gang prosecution, human trafficking, and other emerging trends. Additionally, citizens will have the opportunity to take on the role of District Attorney while prosecuting a mock case in the court system.

Graduates will be able to take their newfound knowledge of the District Attorney's Office and the criminal justice system into their neighborhoods to form stronger relationships between the DA's Office and the community it serves.

The program will be held from 6-8 p.m. on Tuesdays starting Sept. 6 and ending on Oct. 11, at the City-County Building.

Applicants must be at least 18 years old, live or work in Knox County, and must undergo a background check, including a criminal history check. Applications can be found at www.knoxcounty.org/dag. Completed applications may be emailed to jackie.myers@knoxcounty.org, faxed to 865-215-4253, or mailed to the District Attorney's Office at 400 Main Street, Suite 168, Knoxville, Tennessee, 37902.

The deadline to submit an application is July 31, 2016. For more, contact Sean McDermott at sean.mcdermott@knoxcounty.org or 865-215-2515. Visit the website at www.knoxcounty.org/dag.

10. Use Your SNAP Card to Get Fresh Fruit and Vegetables

Individuals who are signed up for the Tennessee Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) can now take advantage of a new program that will provide extra fruit and vegetables at no extra charge.

The farmers markets at Market Square and New Harvest Park have received a grant through the USDA, which is partnering with the AARP Foundation and United Healthcare to help those on SNAP take advantage of a new “Fre$h Savings” program. This is the first season of what is expected to be a three-year program.

When a SNAP client spends up to $10 with their SNAP card at these farmers markets, he or she gets the same amount in Fre$h Savings tokens to spend on fresh fruits and vegetables.

The Market Square Farmers Market is open Wednesdays 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. until November 19. The New Harvest Park Farmers Market is open Thursdays from 3-6 p.m. until November 17. SNAP clients should visit the Information booth at either market to receive tokens to be used for purchases throughout the market.

For more information, contact Rebecca Saldivar, Knox County Parks & Recreation Dept., at 215-6600 or David Vandergriff, UT Extension Knox County, at 215-2340. Or visit <http://www.aarp.org/aarp-foundation/our-work/hunger/info-2015/fresh-savings-shop-smarter-eat-healthier.html>.

This program makes nutritional and healthy foods a more reasonable choice for consumers, promotes local farmers, and keeps food dollars in the community.

11. KUB Changes Coming Down the Line

A four-year process of upgrading 400,000 KUB meters throughout the city and county is slated to begin in July.

KUB customers should be aware of these changes and educate themselves on what it means for them in the coming months or years.

For more information about the upgrade as well as the specifics about the new advanced meters, check out the following Fact Sheet and Frequently Asked Questions. Questions include upgrade cost, meter benefits, and how to opt out, should you decide you want to. To speak to a KUB Customer Service Representative, call 865-524-2911.

12. Parking Downtown: New Meters, New Rates, New Enforcement

As part of a comprehensive approach to managing public parking in downtown Knoxville, the City is installing new parking meters, adjusting rates for on-street and garage parking, and increasing parking enforcement with the goal of providing more turnover in high-demand areas.

“As downtown has revitalized, we’ve seen growing demand for parking from residents, workers and visitors,” said Bill Lyons, Deputy to the Mayor and the City’s Chief Policy Officer. “We have to make sure we are managing our parking resources effectively to balance all of those interests and ensure the continued vitality of our city center.”

In March, City Council approved the purchase of 1,022 new solar-powered parking meters, which will be installed across downtown and the Fort Sanders neighborhood during the coming month. The new meters will accept credit cards or change, and will include sensors that will enable City engineers to track actual usage of street parking spaces.

Along with the new parking meters, a number of other changes will take effect in July. For details, see http://www.knoxvilletn.gov/residents/traffic_transit/parking and then click on the link for the new parking plan.
