Published by the City of Knoxville's Office of Neighborhoods to report news important to Knoxville's residential neighborhoods.

1. City Offices Closed for Memorial Day

City of Knoxville offices will be closed Monday, May 27, in observance of Memorial Day. Waste Connections, the city's household garbage and recyclables collector, will run its normal schedule, but the city's solid waste transfer station on Elm Street will be closed. Brush collection scheduled for Monday will be picked up Tuesday, and city crews will work to catch up by Friday.

2. No Newsletter Next Week

This newsletter will not be published on Friday, May 31. Deadline for the June 7 newsletter is 5 p.m. Thursday, June 6.

3. Bill Hutton Named President of Oakwood-Lincoln Park

Bill Hutton has been elected president of the Oakwood Lincoln Park Neighborhood Association, succeeding Vice President Barbara Armstead, who had been acting president. Bill was recently appointed by Mayor Madeline Rogero to serve on the Neighborhood Advisory Council.

4. Lonas Drive Group Sponsors Community-Wide Yard Sale

For the 11th year, the Lonas Drive Community Association is sponsoring a day for yard sales on Saturday, June 1.

Look for balloons on the mailboxes to identify sales in the neighborhoods north and south of Lonas Drive between Weisgarber Road and Middlebrook Pike. Start times vary with each sale.

5. Block Party Planned in Green Hills

Knox Housing Partnership and Green Hills Apartments, together with the Green Hills Resident Association, are hosting a block party on Saturday, June 1, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

The party will be held along Lombard Place and the west end of Natchez Street, where KHP recently built new affordable single family homes. Hot dogs and other refreshments will be served. Fun activities include face painting. A variety of organizations will provide information booths, including Big Brothers Big Sisters, City of Knoxville Fire and Parks & Recreation departments, Keep Knoxville Beautiful, the Boy Scouts, the Knox County Health Department, and KHP itself.

See www.khp.org for more on KHP and its housing programs.

6. Honor Fountain City Day to Support Businesses

This year's "Honor Fountain City Day" --- sponsored by Fountain City Town Hall (www.fountaincitytownhall.org) --- is featuring a program in support of local businesses.

The event in Fountain City Park attracts hundreds of people, families, community leaders, elected officials and candidates for a full day of music, food, speeches, community awards and recognition of the service and sacrifice of the nation's military veterans.

Entertainment begins at the Gazebo at 10:30 a.m. with the band Nostalgia and at the Covered Pavilion at 11:30 a.m. with the New Beverly Twirlers. Other entertainment includes the Chillbillies, the East Tennessee Concert Band, the Zoo Mobile from the Knoxville Zoo, and activities for children.

The Community Awards Ceremony begins at 3 p.m. with Eddie Mannis, deputy mayor and chief operating officer of the City of Knoxville, delivering the keynote speech. Mannis, who is leaving the city early next month to devote full time to his business, Prestige Cleaners, is the founder of Honor Air Knoxville, the widely acclaimed effort to honor East Tennessee World War II and Korean War veterans by flying them to Washington D.C. to see the memorials built to honor their sacrifices.

The Memorial Day Ceremony, beginning at 4 p.m., will feature speeches by WBIR Anchor John Becker and U.S. Congressman John J. Duncan, Jr.; a poetry reading by City Council Member Mark Campen; and the East Tennessee Veterans Honor Guard.

The event is supported by Knoxville City Council with assistance from the city's Public Service Department. Other sponsors and supporters this year include Broadway Sound, Harrington Insurance Agency, C.L. Butcher Insurance Agency, Fountain City Art Center, Fountain City Jewelers, Fountain City Fontinalis Club, Fountain City Lions Club, Fountain City/Halls Shopper News, Krispy Kreme, Lynnhurst Funeral Home, Mynatt Funeral Home, Printing with Pride, and Sam's Club.

7. City Launches Urban Forestry Web Page

A new urban forestry webpage --- www.cityofknoxville.org/trees --- features a wide variety of information on trees in the city.

Resources include a list of suitable trees to plant in Knoxville, the city's current plans for increasing and maintaining the tree canopy on public property, a copy of the tree ordinance, answers to common tree questions, and information about the Knoxville Tree Board.

Also available through the FAQ page are the National Tree Benefit Calculator (determine the value of your tree on your property) and a list of activities that your neighborhood or organization can do to help the urban forest in Knoxville.

8. Visit Knoxville's Granddaddy Trees

Kasey Krouse, urban forester for the City of Knoxville, and Brian Campbell, director of horticulture for Knoxville Botanical Garden and Arboretum, will lead a two-hour tour of the largest, oldest, and most notable trees in and around downtown Knoxville.

Learn about local tree history, tree identification, the benefits of urban trees, and tree care. Tours begin at 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m., Saturday, June 1, at the Glen Oak Missionary Baptist Church parking lot on the corner of West Glenwood and Folsom Ave.

The tour is free but space is limited. Please contact Katie Greer at 865-249-7488 or Katie@socm.org to make a reservation.

The Granddaddy Tree Tour is organized by the Knoxville Chapter of Statewide Organizing for Community eMpowerment (SOCM), whose motto is "People working together for social, economic, and environmental justice in Tennessee." See <http://www.socm.org> for more information on SOCM.

9. City Conducts Codes Sweep in Beaumont

The city's neighborhood codes inspectors fanned out across portions of the Beaumont neighborhood this morning (Friday, May 24) in search of codes violations.

The "codes sweep" was planned in cooperation with the Beaumont Community Organization, which leafleted the neighborhood last week, encouraging neighbors to clean up in advance of the sweep. The city provided a courtesy box (like a dumpster) to make it easy for residents to discard junk that otherwise might be targeted in the sweep.

Codes sweeps, which began in 2009 in the Parkridge neighborhood, are educational. Inspectors notify property owners of existing violations of the city's building, dirty lot and inoperable vehicle regulations. Owners then have 10-14 days to correct violations. If a re-inspection shows that the violation was not addressed, the codes inspector then issues a formal Notice of Violation.

The Codes Enforcement Office will provide the neighborhood organization with a summary of the violations found during the sweep.

If your organization would like to make arrangements for a codes sweep, please contact the Office of Neighborhoods at 215-3232 or dmassey@cityofknoxville.org.

Property owners in the City of Knoxville are required by law to maintain certain minimum standards in the upkeep of their property. The Codes Enforcement Office investigates codes violations regarding dilapidated buildings, dirty or overgrown lots, illegal dumping, and abandoned vehicles. Violations that are not corrected can be referred to the Public Officer or Municipal Court.

10. Community Development Eyes Five Blighted Properties

The city's Community Development Department next week will ask the Better Building Board to determine that five residential structures are blighted under the city's chronic problem properties ordinance.

The BBB meets at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, May 30, in the Small Assembly Room of the City County Building.

The houses are located at 320 South Castle Street, 1915 Coker Avenue, 2115 Coker Avenue, 423 East Quincy Avenue, and 117 Rose Drive.

Determination of blight is the first of several steps toward a possible acquisition of the property by the city, either through negotiation or by exercising the city's eminent domain powers. During the process, which can take more than one year, the property owner can address the blight to avoid city action.

Properties acquired in this fashion are placed in the Homemaker's Program. Investors or would-be homeowners can submit proposals to acquire the properties. See <http://www.cityofknoxville.org/development/homemaker/> for full details on the program and a list of properties available for purchase. Most of the properties are vacant lots.

The ultimate aim of the acquisition and resale program is to eliminate blight, stabilize the neighborhood, and return properties to the tax rolls.

11. Neighbors Can Testify on Blighted Properties Next Week

Twenty residential properties are on the agenda for the City's next Public Officer Hearing at 9:30 a.m. Friday, May 31.

The Public Officer --- David Brace, director of the Public Service Department --- will hear testimony on buildings that inspectors contend are in violation of the city's building codes. Testimony can also be made by the property owners, neighbors, neighborhood groups, and other stakeholders, such as lien holders.

The Public Officer then decides whether to issue an order requiring that the violations be addressed in a certain period of time. Failure by the owner to cure the problem may result in the boarding or demolition of a structure, or the cleanup of a dirty or overgrown lot, with costs billed to the owner. A property owner may appeal the Public Officer's decision to the Better Building Board and ultimately to Chancery Court.

Here are the properties to be considered for repair and/or demolition orders:

229 Ailsie Drive, 1335 Armstrong Avenue, 3818 Catalpa Avenue, 2806 Greenway Drive + accessory structures, 2824 Linden Avenue, 2912 Linden Avenue, 133 Lynnview Drive, 2337 Money Place, 1405 Moses Ave, 4718 Moss Drive + accessory, 1001 New York Avenue, 509 Palmer Street, 820 Richards Street + accessory structure, 822 Richards Street, 843 Richards Street, 3618 Skyline Drive, 4630 Valley View Drive, 2215 Western Avenue, 3012 Wilson Avenue, and 4308 Woodlawn Pike + accessory structure

In addition, the Public Officer will review several emergency board-ups that occurred over the last month or so. If approved, the cost of the boarding will be charged to the owners. These properties are 721 Banks Avenue, 2806 Greenway Drive, 2824 Linden Avenue, 133 Lynnview Drive, 212 East Morelia Avenue, 1001 New York Avenue, 3618 Skyline Drive, and 3012 Wilson Avenue.

By close of business on May 24, the full May 31 agenda, with details on each property, can be found at http://www.cityofknoxville.org/plansreview/agenda_poh.pdf.

12. Neighborhood and Government Calendar

Include your neighborhood-related event or meeting in this space. Call 215-3232.

All government meetings will be held in either the Large or Small Assembly Room unless otherwise noted. For a complete list of meetings of various city boards and commissions, visit <http://www.cityofknoxville.org/calendar/>.

If you are a person with a disability who requires an accommodation in order to attend a public meeting, please contact Stephanie Brewer Cook at 215-2034 or scook@cityofknoxville.org no less than 48 hours prior to the meeting you wish to attend.
