Published by the City of Knoxville's Office of Neighborhoods to report news important to Knoxville's residential neighborhoods. Deadline for news & calendar items: 5 p.m. Mondays.

1. Act Now --- Six Days Left for Early Bird Registration

You and your neighbors have just six more days to pre-register for The Neighborhood Conference, to be held Saturday, March 7, at the Knoxville Convention Center, 701 Henley Street, downtown.

Early-bird online registration ends at noon Tuesday, March 3. Registrations must be in hand by that date and time to guarantee your free box lunch, a conference notebook, and admission to the workshops you like best.

See <http://www.cityofknoxville.org/neighborhoods> to download the conference brochure and follow the link to online registration. Or call 215-2113 to have a hard copy of the program and registration form mailed to you.

Walk-in registrations are welcome on the day of the conference, but the items noted above cannot be guaranteed. There is no charge to participate in this conference, although donations will be gratefully accepted.

2. For Neighbors and Neighborhoods, Conference is a Gold Mine

Let's say your neighborhood needs help providing activities to engage young people.

Or you would like to draw more people to your neighborhood meetings by showcasing youth talent.

As a concerned neighbor, maybe you are looking for ways to help a neighbor in need but have no clue about available social services.

Perhaps you would like to know more about crime prevention... community schools... your rights and responsibilities as a renter... legal issues that confront homeowners associations... how to create positive energy in your community.

These and many more topics will be addressed by over 100 speakers in the 32 workshops planned at The Neighborhood Conference on Saturday, March 7. Moreover, over 80 government agencies, youth service organizations and other nonprofits will have information booths to give you a wealth of resources, ideas and contacts.

PLUS, you can network with neighborhood leaders and meet city and county department representatives; elected officials from Knoxville City Council, Knox County Commission, and Knox County Board of Education; and Knoxville Mayor Madeline Rogero and Knox County Mayor Tim Burchett.

PLUS, the conference features a free continental breakfast, a free box lunch and door prizes. What's not to like? A gold mine, indeed.

Whether you are active in a neighborhood organization in the city or the county, or just a concerned city or county resident, this conference is for you.

Check out the conference brochure here:

<http://www.cityofknoxville.org/development/neighborhoods/2015conference.pdf>

The program in this brochure reflects the following changes from previous versions:

--- Sheriff JJ Jones will not be participating. Deputy Chief Eddie Biggs of the Knox County Sheriff's Department is now on the panel for "Top Cops: Law Enforcement Issues and Concerns," along with Knoxville Police Chief David Rausch and District Attorney General Charme Allen. Also, Ann White of the Dalton Place Homeowners Association will moderate that panel.

--- Phyllis Patrick, president of Lonsdale Homes Resident Association, will moderate the panel "Addressing Quality of Life Issues in Public Housing."

--- Ronnie Collins, president of Alice Bell Spring Hill Neighborhood Association, will introduce members of City Council and moderate the Q&A session for the City Council workshop.

--- The "New Neighbors, New Worlds" panel has two additions. Almaz Gemechu, a 2001 immigrant from Ethiopia, is the director of refugee and international ministries for Cedar Springs Presbyterian Church. And Patrick Neih Lian Khup is a 2008 immigrant to Knoxville from Burma.

3. Fourteen Residents Nominated for Good Neighbor of the Year Award

Fourteen Knoxville neighborhood residents were nominated for the Diana Conn Good Neighbor of the Year Award, and they will be honored at the City of Knoxville's Neighborhood Conference on Saturday, March 7, at the Knoxville Convention Center.

The 14 were nominated by their neighbors in response to a call from the Office of Neighborhoods last December. All will be honored, but only one will receive the Diana Conn Good Neighbor of the Year Award.

The award, named for the late Diana Conn of the Old Sevier Community, is presented annually to a Knoxville resident who --- in a spirit of cooperation and with commitment to inclusive community --- has devoted time and talent in service to his or her neighbors and neighborhood.

The nominees and their neighborhoods are:

- Ben Ream (South Knoxville)
- Beth Booker (Old North Knoxville)
- George Conner (Adell Ree Park Condominiums)
- Heather Burchfield Ream (South Knoxville)
- Kirk Anderson (Timbercrest)
- Linda Denton (North Hills)
- Monte Stanley (Old Sevier)
- Nancy Wallace (West View)
- Rita Schwartz (Love Towers and Old North Knoxville)
- Ronnie Thompson (Montgomery Village)
- Sandy Robinson (Wesley Neighbors / West Hills)
- Sylvia Cook (Eastport / Lee Williams / Five Points)
- Tanisha Fitzgerald Baker (Pleasant Knoll)
- Tonja Warren (Montgomery Village)

Attend the March 7 conference to find out why these individuals were considered by their peers to be good neighbors... and to see which of them will be named the Diana Conn Good Neighbor of the Year. For more on the award, see:

<http://www.cityofknoxville.org/development/NEIGHBORHOODS/neighboraward.asp>

4. Ride KAT for Free to the Conference...or Use Smart Trips to Carpool

Would you like to attend the March 7 neighborhood conference but don't have a ride?

Would you be willing to give a ride to someone else?

There are several options for folks to get to the Knoxville Convention Center at 701 Henley Street on Saturday, March 7.

First, if you can get to a bus line, you can ride KAT for no charge. KAT buses will run a regular Saturday schedule on Saturday, March 7. If you are headed for the Neighborhood Conference, just tell the driver, and you will ride for free. The cost of your ride will be paid by donations and conference sponsorships.

Some bus routes go by the Convention Center. If not, you can ride to Knoxville Station and then transfer to a free trolley to the Convention Center. KAT will start the Vol Trolley at 7:15 a.m. --- two hours earlier than normal for a Saturday. See the KAT website ---

<http://katbus.com/ADA/schedules.php> --- for routes and schedules.

Once you are at the conference, stop by the KAT booth to get your free bus pass for the ride home.

A second option is Smart Trips for those interested in carpooling. Whether you need a ride or can give a ride, you can register at <http://knoxsmarttrips.org/>. Once you are registered, you can do a search in your area for folks interested in carpooling. When you find someone in your area, you send them an email through the website. If you feel comfortable with the person, you can then give out your phone number and arrange for the carpool.

But don't stop at these two options. If you know several neighbors going to the conference, think about setting up your own carpool. Include neighbors who might otherwise not feel comfortable driving or parking downtown. You can drop them off at the Ballroom Circle on Cumberland Avenue before you park.

It's all about being neighborly and helping to get folks to a great conference. Questions may be directed to Debbie Sharp 215-4382 or email at dsharp@cityofknoxville.org.

Parking will be available at the Poplar Street surface parking lot across Cumberland Avenue from the Convention Center (free) and at the adjacent Church Street United Methodist Church Parking lot (possible $5 charge). You can also park at the Locust Street Garage free of charge.

5. Sponsors Provide Key Support

The Neighborhood Conference for 2015 is made possible by taxpayer funds supplemented greatly by individual donations and by corporate sponsors.

The primary sponsors for this conference are Waste Connections and Home Federal Bank.

Tennova Healthcare is a gold sponsor.

Silver sponsors are Cannon & Cannon Consulting Engineers, the realty company Coldwell Banker Wallace & Wallace, the Knoxville Area Association of Realtors, Knoxville News Sentinel, Prestige Cleaners, UT Federal Credit Union, and the engineering firm Vaughn & Melton. Bronze sponsors are First Tennessee Bank, Knox REIA and Smart Home Technologies.

The Office of Neighborhoods and the City of Knoxville appreciate the support of these companies. Please thank them if you get the chance.

6. South Knoxville Public Forum Postponed

Due to the prediction of more inclement weather, a forum with three elected officials from South Knoxville has been postponed.

The forum was to have been held this Thursday, Feb. 26, at Flenniken Landing. It planned to feature members from the three branches of government; County Commission, City Council and School Board. The forum will be rescheduled in April when the weather is more predictable.
