Lightning Safety Policy

The following is information excerpted from information from National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration pamphlet # PA200461. While no action can provide 100% protection for individuals from lightning, the following will reduce the chances of being struck by lightning significantly.

Basic facts about lightning:

- All thunderstorms produce lightning and are dangerous. In an average year, lightning kills more people in the U.S. than either tornadoes or hurricanes.
- Lightning often strikes outside the area of heavy rain and may strike as far as 10 miles from any rainfall. Many deaths from lightning occur ahead of storms because people wait too long before seeking shelter, or after storms because people return outside too soon.
- If you hear thunder, you are in danger. Anytime thunder is heard, the thunderstorm is close enough to pose an immediate lightning threat to your location.
- Lightning leaves many victims with permanent disabilities. While only a small percentage of lightning strike victims die, many survivors must learn to live with very serious, lifelong disabilities.

Avoid the Lightning threat.

- Plan ahead. Have a lightning safety plan. Know where people will go for safety and how much time it will take for them to get there. Have specific guidelines for suspending the event or activity so that everyone has time to reach safety. Follow the plan without exception.
- Postpone activities. Prior to a practice or event, check the latest forecast. If thunderstorms are forecast, consider postponing activities early to avoid being caught in a dangerous situation.
- Monitor the weather. Watch and listen for clues of impending danger. Look for darkening skies, flashes of lightning, or increasing winds, which may be signs of a developing or approaching thunderstorm. Listen for thunder.
- Get to a safe place. If you hear thunder, suspend your activity immediately and instruct everyone to get to a safe place. Substantial buildings provide the best protection. Once inside, stay off corded phones and away from any wiring or plumbing. Avoid sheds, small or open shelters, dugouts, bleachers, or grandstands. If a sturdy building is not nearby, a hard-

- topped metal vehicle with the windows closed will offer good protection.
- Stay inside. Do not resume activities until 30 minutes have passed since the last thunder was heard.

What you should do if you can't get to a safe place.

Being outside during a thunderstorm puts you at risk of being struck by lightning. The measures listed below will reduce that risk somewhat, but are no substitute for getting to a safe place.

- Avoid open areas and stay away from isolated tall trees, towers, or utility poles. Lightning tends to strike the taller objects.
- Stay away from metal bleachers, backstops, and fences. Lightning can travel long distances through metal.
- Spread out. This reduces the risk of multiple lightning casualties.

If you feel your hair stand on end, lightning is about to strike.

There may be little or nothing you can do to keep from being struck by lightning. As a last desperate resort:

- Crouch down on the balls of your feet, put your hands over your ears, and bend your head down. Make yourself as small a target as possible and minimize your contact with the ground.
- Do not lie flat on the ground.

Know what to do if someone is struck by lightning.

Lightning victims do not carry an electrical charge, are safe to handle, and need immediate medical attention. Cardiac arrest is the immediate cause of death in lightning fatalities. Some deaths can be prevented if the victim immediately receives the proper first aid.

- Call for help. Call 9-1-1 or your local ambulance service.
- Give first aid. Check the victim's pulse and breathing. Begin CPR if necessary. An Automatic External Defibrillator (AED) may also be useful if one is available.
- If possible, move the victim to a safer place. An active thunderstorm is still dangerous. Don't let the rescuers become victims. Lightning CAN strike the same place twice.

RULES OF CONDUCT

Recreational sports are provided by the Knoxville Parks and Recreation Department for the enjoyment of Knoxville residents. Games are meant to be fun and played in a spirit of competition.

Actions that endanger, embarrass, or detract from the goals of recreational sports sponsored by the Knoxville Parks and Recreation Department will not be tolerated. These simple common-sense rules will be enforced:

FANS: Fans are urged to come to games and cheer for their teams. Encourage your players. Insulting or abusing players on other teams or game officials will not be allowed.

PLAYERS: Players can encourage and cheer for their teammates. Players will not be allowed to verbally abuse or physically threaten game officials.

COACHES: Coaches are the authority figures for their teams and they have a responsibility to help keep order among players and fans. Coaches are allowed to question an official's calls, but under no circumstances are coaches permitted to verbally abuse or threaten or physically strike an umpire.

OFFICIALS: An official's responsibility is to call games to the best of his or her ability and to maintain order at all times. An official is the final authority at the facility. Officials are not to use their authority to intimidate or treat players and coaches unfairly.

Any incident that violates any of these aforementioned rules is to be reported to the gym supervisor immediately. Players, coaches, and fans are not to verbally abuse or physically threaten officials before, during, or after a game. An official is instructed to report any incident immediately if he or she has been treated unfairly.

Any violation of these rules will result in ejection or suspension of the offending party from league participation. The goal of recreational sports is to have fun. People who conduct themselves in a disrespectful manner take the fun out of the program for everyone else.

Thank you for your help in making our program more enjoyable for everyone.

Conduct Violations and Penalties

Be advised that the following description of violations and penalties will be enforced to the letter and will serve as guidelines for any violations that may not be covered herein.

Four game suspensions (next four games) will be the result of any actions that result in a player's/coach's/fan's ejection from a game. Upon ejection from the game, that player/coach/fan must leave the building and/or grounds and not return until the next scheduled game after the suspension is completed.

Players will be suspended for the remainder of the season as a result of illegal participation (i.e. playing in a game without having all necessary documents turned in, playing on more than one team in the league, playing under an assumed name, etc.). All games that player played in will be forfeited.

An indefinite suspension, with a minimum of two years, is the result of the following:

1. Fighting – both parties along with any member of either team who leaves the bench area. (See Physical/Verbal Abuse Policy)
2. Verbally or physically threatening in any form a player, coach, spectator, or any employee of the Knoxville Parks and Recreation Department (i.e. scorers/timers, league supervisors, game officials, center leaders, and administrative personnel, etc.).
